BHUTAN

Location and Extent

Bhutan is a small and landlocked country, situated between China (Tibet) and India. It has an area of 38,394 square kilometers. It has east-west dimension (longest) stretching around 300 kilometers and 170 kilometers at its maximum north-south dimension. Bhutan is located in the eastern Himalayas and is mostly mountainous and heavily forested. It shares 470 kilometers long border with Tibet (China's Xizang Autonomous Region) in the north and northwest, 605 kilometers with the Indian state of Sikkim in the west, West Bengal in the southwest, Assam in the south and southeast, and Arunachal Pradesh in the east.

About 70 percent of the Kingdom is covered with forests; 7 percent with year-round snow and glaciers; nearly 3 percent is cultivated or agriculture areas; and 4 percent as meadows and pastures, while rest of the land is either barren, rocky or scrubland.

Relief and Surface Features

Bhutan is one of the most rugged mountain terrains in the world. It has elevations ranging from 160 meters to more than 7,000 meters above sea level. Bhutan's highest peak Jhomo Lhari, overlooking the Chumbi Valley in the west, is 7,314 meters above sea level.

In the north, the snowcapped Great Himalayan Range reaches heights of over 7,500 meters above sea level and extends along the Bhutan-China border. The northern region consists of an arc of glaciated mountain peaks with an arctic climate at the highest elevations. Alpine valleys in this region provide pasturage for livestock tended by a sparse population practicing transhumance.

The Inner Himalayas are southward spurs of the Great Himalayan Range. The Black Mountains, in central Bhutan, form a watershed between two major river systems, the Mo Chhu and the Drangme Chhu. Peaks in the Black Mountains range between 1,500 meters and 2,700 meters above sea level, and the fast-flowing rivers have carved out spectacular gorges in the lower mountain areas. The woodlands of the central region provide most of Bhutan's valuable forest production. Eastern Bhutan is divided by yet another southward spur. Western Bhutan has fertile, cultivated valleys and terraced river basins. In the south, the Southern Hills, or Siwalik Hills, the foothills of the Himalayas, are covered with dense deciduous forest, alluvial lowland river valleys, and mountains that reach to around 1,500 meters above sea level. The foothills descend into the subtropical plain.

Climate and Vegetation

The country is divided into three distinct climatic zones: alpine, temperate and subtropical zone. Bhutan's climate is as varied as its altitudes and, like most of Asia, it is affected by the monsoons. The climate is humid and subtropical in the southern plains and foothills, temperate in the inner Himalayan valleys of the central regions, and cold in the north, with year-round snow on the main Himalayan range.

Temperatures vary according to elevation. Most of the central portion of the country experiences a cool, temperate climate year round. In the south, a hot, humid climate helps maintain a fairly even temperature range of between 15° C and 30° C year-round, although temperatures sometimes reach beyond 35° C in the valleys during the summer.

Annual precipitation ranges widely in various parts of the country. In the severe climate of the north, there is only about forty millimeters of annual precipitation--primarily snow. In the temperate central regions, a yearly average of around 1,000 millimeters is more common, and 7,800 millimeters per year has been registered at some locations in the humid, subtropical south, ensuring the thick tropical forest. Thimphu experiences dry winter months (December through February) and almost no precipitation until March, when rainfall averages 20 millimeters a month and increases steadily thereafter to a high of 220 millimeters in August for a total annual rainfall of nearly 650 millimeters.

Bhutan's generally dry spring starts in early March and lasts until mid-April. Summer weather commences in mid-April with occasional showers and continues through the early monsoon rains of late June. The summer monsoon lasts from late June through late September with heavy rains from the southwest. The monsoon weather, blocked from its northward progress by the Himalayas, brings heavy rains, high humidity, flash floods and landslides, and numerous misty, overcast days. Autumn, from late September or early October to late November, follows the rainy season. It is characterized by bright, sunny days and some early snowfalls at higher elevations. From late November until March, winter sets in, with frost throughout much of the country and snowfall common above elevations of 3,000 meters. The winter northeast monsoon brings gale-force winds down through high mountain passes.

There is a pronounced difference in the vegetation cover in three different zones of the country and it is mostly due to the prevalence of varied climatic conditions across the kingdom. The southern foothills are mostly covered by the dense and thick deciduous trees while the inner regions are dotted by an infinite variety of plants, flowers and trees including birch, pine, chestnut, oak, apples, peaches and plums are also grown in the fertile valleys. The northern part with the tundra type of climate allows the growth of coniferous trees and other alpine growths like magnolia, rhododendrons, birch, fir, spruce etc... The vegetation is overall expression of various ecological factors, and it is one of the basic analytical tools for developing and understanding the mountain environment.

Drainage Pattern

Fed by fresh snow each winter and slow melting in the summer, the glaciers bring millions of liters of fresh water to Bhutan and downriver areas each year. Bhutan has four major river systems: the Drangme Chhu; the Puna Tsang Chhu; the Wang Chhu; and the Amo Chhu. Each flows swiftly out of the Himalayas, southerly through the Duars to join the Brahmaputra River in India. The largest river system, the Drangme Chhu, flows southwesterly from India's state of Arunachal Pradesh and has three major tributaries: the Drangme Chhu, Mangde Chhu, and Chamkhar Chhu. These rivers form the Drangme Chhu basin. In the Duars, where eight tributaries join, the Drangme Chhu is called the Manas Chhu. The 320-kilometer-long Puna Tsang Chhu rises in northwestern Bhutan as the Mo Chhu and Pho Chhu, which are fed by the snows and glaciers from the Great Himalayan Range. They flow southerly to Punakha, where they join to form the Puna Tsang Chhu, which flows southerly into India's state of West Bengal. The Wang Chhu, which is 370 kilometers flows southeasterly through west-central Bhutan, drains the Ha, Paro, and Thimphu valleys, and continues through the foothills, before it finally drains into West Bengal. The smallest river system, the Torsa Chhu, known as the Amo Chhu in its northern reaches, flows swiftly through western Bhutan before broadening near Phuntsholing and then flowing into India. Glaciers in northern Bhutan, which cover about 10 percent of the total surface area, are an important renewable source of water for Bhutan's rivers.

Government

On 17th December 1907, the civil and monastic representatives unanimously crowned Ugyen Wangchuck as the first hereditary monarch of Bhutan. It was the strength and the farsightedness of Ugyen Wangchuck that for the first time Bhutan was united under a central authority providing the country with stability and opportunity for development. In 1926 his son Jigme Wangchuck succeeded Ugyen Wangchuck. The third Druk Gyalpo, Jigme Dorji Wangchuck began a campaign of modernization and expansion of Bhutan's government and society based on the accomplishments of his two predecessors in uniting the country under a strong central authority. Hence, the National Assembly consisting of representatives of the people, the Monastic order and civil administration was established in 1953.

The fourth Druk Gyalpo, Jigme Singye Wangchuk became the King in 1972. There had been steady decentralization of decision-making and institute building since then. His Majesty's philosophy of Gross National Happiness guided Bhutan into the 21st century. The most momentous change in the structure of the government came in 1998 after the devolution of the executive power by His Majesty the King to the Council of Ministers. The Fourth Druk Gyalpo initiated the drafting of Bhutan's first Constitution in 2001 and was eventually enacted in 2008. The King abdicated the throne in favour of the crown prince in 2006.

The fifth Druk Gyalpo, His Majesty King Jigme Khesar Namgyel Wangchuck acceded to the throne on December 14, 2006 and was crowned on November 6, 2008. The head of government is the Prime Minister, who is elected from the ruling political party.

Administrative System

The administrative system in the country consists of Central Government and Local Government. The Central Government comprises of Ministries, Departments and Autonomous bodies. The Local Government comprises of Dzongkhag Tshogdu, Gewog Tshogde and the Dzongkhag Thromde Tshogde.

In order to plan and review the development activities most efficiently in the Dzongkhag, the Dzongkhag Tshogdu was established in 1981. The Dzongkhag Tshogdu comprises of elected representatives of the people with its chairman elected among the Gups. Similarly, the Gewog Tshogde was established in 1991 to further decentralize the decision making process. The Gewog Tshogde comprises of Gup, Mangmi and Tshogpas. The main role of the Gewog Tshogde is to plan, prioritize and implement the developmental activities in their respective Gewogs.

The National Assembly

The National Assembly (Gyelyong Tshogdu) consists of 47 members who are elected representatives from the 47 Constituencies. The main functions of the National Assembly are to enact, amend or repeal laws and approve the national budget. The National Assembly also reviews and approves the Five Year Plans which are formulated by the government in consultation with the people of every Dzongkhag. It also deliberates on issues that affect the security and well-being of the country and promotes the welfare and happiness of the people. The National Assembly meets twice a year. However, if an important and emergency matter demands, special sessions of the National Assembly may be convened by the speaker. The duration of the National Assembly session is governed by the nature and scope of the points for discussion received from the people. A session normally lasts about three weeks. The speaker is the presiding officer of the House and is assisted by a Deputy Speaker. The day to day administration of the National Assembly rests with the secretariat which is headed by a secretary.

The National Council

The National Council was established in 2008 under Article 11 of the Constitution of Bhutan. There are 25 members of which 20 are elected by the people from 20 Dzongkhags and the remaining 5 are nominated by His Majesty, the Druk Gyalpo. Their tenure is for five years which commences from the date of the first sitting. The main functions of the National Council are to:

- i. Ensure that the government safeguards the interest of the nation and fulfills the aspirations of the people through public review of policies and issues, bills and other legislation, and scrutiny of state functions.

- ii. Act as the house of review on matters affecting the security and sovereignty of the country and the interests of the nation and people that need to be brought to the notice of His Majesty, the Druk Gyalpo, the Prime Minister and the National Assembly.

The National Council meets twice a year. However, special sessions may also be convened depending upon the needs. The chairperson, who is elected from 25 members of the National Council is the Presiding Officer of the House, and is assisted by a Deputy Chairperson. The National Council has seven working committees; namely the House Committee, the Legislative Committee, the Economic Affairs Committee, the Social & Cultural Affairs Committee, the Natural Resources and Environment Committee, the Good Governance Committee and the Foreign Relation Committee. Each committee has a minimum of seven members headed by a Chairperson who is elected from the seven members. The National Council is assisted in the discharge of its parliamentary functions by a secretariat which is headed by a Secretary General.

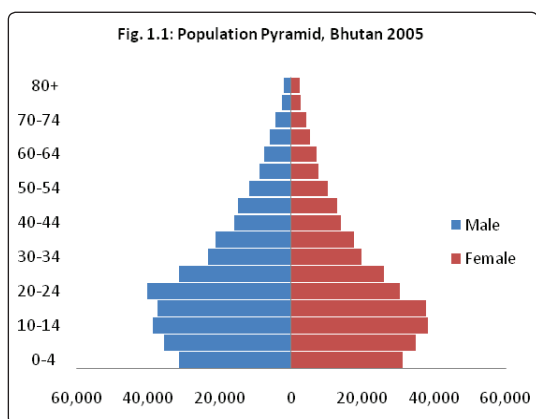

The Monastic Body

The Monastic Body comprises of the Central Monastic Body and the Rabdeys (Dzongkhag Monastic Body). The Central Monastic Body receives annual subsidy from the Government to manage and run its day to day affairs. The Monastic Body is the sole arbiter on religious matters. The Je-Khenpo (Chief Abbot) is the head of the monastic body and is responsible for the nation's religious affairs. He is chosen from among high ranking monks. Apart from being thoroughly versed in all branches of religious scholarship and practice, the candidate must also have undergone prolonged mediation. The present Je-Khenpo Trulku Jigme Chhoeda is the 70th in succession. He was appointed in 1996.

The Je-Khenpo is assisted by five high-ranking Lopens (Masters) viz. Dorji Lopen acts as Deputy Je-Khenpo and the Chief of all Lopens (Masters), Yangbi Lopen heads the liturgical division inclusive of Sacred Dances, Rituals Arts, and Metrical Ryhme, Drabi Lopen heads Lexicographical division that includes literature, grammar, lexicon, metrics and prosody, Tshenyi Lopen heads the division of Metaphysics and Logic and Tsugla Lopen is responsible for the higher studies of the monastic Body. There are also monastic bodies in the Dzongkhags headed by Lam Neeten. He is assisted by Umzey, Kudrung and the lopens (teachers) of different areas.

This chapter contains statistics on the basic attributes of population such as the size and the growth of population, its geographical distribution, its structure by sex and age etc. The principle source of data on population is the population and housing census, which is conducted every ten years. The Population and Housing Census in Bhutan was first conducted in May 2005 and the second round of Population and Housing Census was carried out in May 2017 as per the UN standards and had been enumerated using both de facto and de jure method. The census provides a complete count of the population according to a range of characteristics such as demography, health, education and other social aspects. It is useful not only because they provide a range of current population data but also used as a benchmark for making population estimates in non-census years and for population projections.

The other aspects of population statistics relates to the demographic characteristics of the population. The most common source of information on demography is the vital registration system (which usually covers the registration of births and deaths and sometimes marriages and divorce).

The Statistics presented in this chapter are from the Population and Housing Census of Bhutan 2005 and 2017. The actual resident population enumerated during May 2005 is 634,982 persons out of which 333,595 persons are male and 301,387 are females, while it is 735,553 persons in 2017. The total Bhutanese population found during 2017 PHCB was 681,720 persons. The total urban population in 2005 was 196,111 persons while in 2017 there were 274,316 persons in urban areas. Similarly the total number of rural population in 2005 and 2017 were 438,871 and 452,829 respectively.

The interpretations of demographic indicators are:

Crude Birth Rate:	Number of live births in a year per thousand population.
General Fertility Rate:	Number of live births in a year per thousand women in the childbearing age (15 to 49).
General Marital Fertility Rate:	A ratio of number of births to 1000 married women in the Reproductive ages.
Total Fertility Rate:	Average number of children born by women during their reproductive span of life.
Gross Reproductive Rate:	Measures the extent to which a cohort of newly born girls will replace their mothers under pre-determined schedules of fertility and mortality.
Crude Death Rate:	Number of deaths in a year per thousand population.
Infant Mortality Rate:	Number of deaths during first year of life per thousand live births.
Maternal Mortality Ratio:	The annual number of deaths of women from pregnancy-related causes per 100,000 live births.
Rate of Natural Increase:	The difference between the crude birth rate and the crude death rate.
Dependency Ratio:	Measures the number of dependents as a percentage of population aged 15 to 64. Child dependency refers to children aged 0 to 14 years, while old age dependency refers to persons aged 65 and over.
Index of Aging:	It is the number of persons aged 65 and over as a percentage of the number of persons aged 0 to 14.

Guided by the national development philosophy of Gross National Happiness, the health sector envisions building “a healthy and happy nation through a dynamic professional health system with attainment of highest standard of health for the people within the broader framework of overall national development, in the spirit of social justice and equity.”

Since the early years (1960s) of the introduction of modern health care development in Bhutan (Allopathic), the health programmes and interventions have focused on the preventive aspects of health care and services including, the prevention of morbidity, the promotion of positive determinants of health, and the control of infectious disease. These measures were further being reinforced after being signatory to the Alma Ata declaration in 1978.

There have been a continuous efforts and remarkable strides in improving the modern health care systems and services since then. The Ministry of Health has now a wide spread network of Health Facilities covering around 95 percent of the total population within three hours walking distance from the health facility. Institutional health facilities were earlier concentrated in the urban agglomerated centers, but today the emphasis has shifted to the rural areas where the majority of the population live.

Health Care is delivered in a totally integrated three-tiered system with National Referral Hospital at the apex, regional referral hospitals, district hospitals, and Basic Health Units (BHUs) at the Community Level. BHUs serve remote populace and are staffed by well-trained health personnel who are equipped to treat minor ailments and advice on preventive measures to avoid the spread of communicable diseases. Extended Health Centers such as Out Reach Clinics (ORCs) and Sub-posts support these BHUs.

There are also a number of special health programs in Bhutan administered by the Ministry of Health. These mainly cover Expanded Program on Immunization (EPI), Reproductive Health (RH), Acute Respiratory Infection (ARI) later upgraded to Integrated Management of Neonatal and Childhood Illness (IMNCI), National HIV/AIDS & STIs Control Program (NACP), National Tuberculosis Control Program (NTCP), National Leprosy Program, Rural Water Supply & Sanitation Program (RWSS), Village Health Workers Program (VHW), Vector Borne Disease Control Program (VDCP), Mental Health Program, among others.

Therefore, in order to provide some account of health sector in Bhutan, this chapter presents statistics covering health infrastructures, top ten morbidity and mortality, outpatient and inpatient cases, immunizations, nutrition, maternal health, child health, family planning and sanitation.

The modern education system in Bhutan was introduced with the initiation of economic development plans in 1961. The monastic form of education however existed and continues even today. There are now extensive network of schools and other educational institutions spread throughout the country.

The school-based education structure in Bhutan comprised 11 years of free basic education from classes PP to X, divided into 7 years of primary education (PP-VI), which starts at the age of 6, and 4 years of secondary education (VII-X). However, the current Druk Nyamrup Tshogpa led government extended the basic minimum education from class X to XII starting academic year 2020. This policy change in the education system means that henceforth Royal Government of Bhutan will provide literally 13 years of free basic education. Beyond the 12th standard students either continue their tertiary education in institutes and universities or join the vocational training institutes or enter the labour market.

The medium of instructions in the schools are Dzongkha (national language) and English. School curricula also include training in traditional arts, crafts, and agriculture. Besides the modern education system, there are large numbers of traditional institutions offering education to children in Monasteries, Drupdras and Shedras. The Ministry of Education has only recently started collecting information for the Shedras, collection of information on private Monasteries and Drupdras has not yet been undertaken.

Non-Formal Education (NFE), which is meant for those individuals who are unable to avail the facilities of the formal education, was first established formally in 1992. Basic literacy skills, reading, writing and numeric skills are likewise strengthened through this system. The Ministry of Education maintains an extensive range of statistics on students, schools and teaching personnel.

Many schools provide boarding facilities for students living in areas far from the school with meals provided through the support of World Food Programme (WFP). The WFP also supports mid-day meals for day scholars who come from distant communities.

Recognizing that education is the fundamental link to national progress,

Royal Government of Bhutan has always emphasized education as priority sector and will continue to do so in times to come. In the process, Bhutan has achieved tremendous progress in the front of education since the start of the five year plan development. The statistics presented in this chapter provides an overview the Bhutan's current education scenario comprising key education indicators, number of schools, institutes, colleges, students, teachers and lecturers. Where possible, statistics related to schools are also disaggregated at the Dzongkhag level.

Information on the economic characteristics of working population is essential in stimulating investments where they are needed, identification of priority sectors and designing government programs and strategies in order to mobilize the country's human resources towards economic development and prosperity. The economy of Bhutan is characterized by the predominance of people engaged in self-employment, particularly those working on their own land. There is also a good deal of small cottage industry often undertaken in the home. The number of person working for wages is relatively small.

Statistics on labour force and its characteristics are not only vital for planning for human resource development but also estimating and labour demand and supply projections. Basically, it measures the involvement of people in economic activities. Economic activities refer to the production of economic goods and services and include people who are self-employed (e.g. farmers operating their own land) as well as persons who work for wages (i.e. employees). Broadly, a statistical system for human resources should cover topics such as size and characteristics of the labour force, employment, wage rate and conditions of work.

The primary source of data on labour and employment is the Labour Force Survey, which is being conducted annually in Bhutan. This captures employment in formal and informal sectors since the survey respondents are households. Included in this chapter are employment status, by sex, area, major industry and by occupation groups from LFS Report, 2019. At the same time, it also includes statistics on employment maintained by Royal Civil Service Commission. Figure 4.1 presents the unemployment rate in Bhutan by sex over the last five years (2015-2019).

The Ministry of Agriculture and Forests (MoAF), over the past four decades, was concerned about “how to grow” by establishing various agriculture infrastructures to produce and distribute the inputs. Currently the MoAF established four main Renewable Natural Resources (RNR) research centers.

The MoAF with the accumulated experiences having accomplished one five year plan to the other, maintains the three basic objectives that are to i) conserve the environment, ii) enhance the rural income and iii) attain self-reliance in cereals and essential oil crops. In 2018, Agriculture contributed 10.82 percent to the total economy i.e. as measured by the Gross Domestic Product.

Agricultural practices have changed tremendously over the years. Until a decade ago, agriculture was practiced on a subsistence basis. Whatever was produced on the farm was consumed having little or no marketable surplus. The farm production is supplemented by keeping different kinds of domestic animals such as cattle for draught and milking purpose, chicken for eggs and pigs for meat etc. At higher altitudes, herds of yaks and sheep are also kept for draught and milking.

However, today owing to the improved network of road accessibility and transportation in the country, increasing number of farms are shifting from subsistence based farming to modern agriculture. Strategies to increase livestock and cereal production include the propagation and practice of double cropping of the paddy production and distribution of high yield varieties. In the livestock sector the artificial insemination covers not only for the Jersey breeds that are high yielding but also for the production of Jatsa and Jatsam that are high yielding local breed. As a result, increasing number of farms are getting mechanized with sizable investment on the machinery and other inputs that are subsidized by the government.

In order to fulfill the aspiration of food security and self-sufficiency in the country, it is imperative to use the current RNR statistics that will provide realistic picture of country’s food situation. The availability of RNR statistics also serves as the basis for drawing sound and relevant agricultural policy decisions of the government. Presented in this chapter therefore include statistics on agricultural area, quantity and value of crops and livestock production, export and import of agricultural commodities etc. The major sources of data presented in this chapter are from the RNR Statistics Division, MoAF.

The conservation of environment is one of the four pillars of Bhutan’s development philosophy of Gross National Happiness (GNH). Accordingly, the Royal Government of Bhutan (RGoB) has been putting concerted efforts in protecting the environment and the priority has been on the sustainable use of natural resources in all its policies, plans and programs.

This chapter presents statistics which are related to environment. The statistics collected and presented in this chapter are organized based on the broad Framework for Development of Environmental Statistics (FDES) provided by the United Nations Statistics Division. The six components of FDES, namely, environmental conditions & quality, environmental resources & their use, emissions, residuals & waste, extreme events & disasters, human habitat & environmental health, environmental protection, management & engagement have been used to gather statistics from different sources.

The chapter on Environment Statistics gives some general statistics on atmosphere, climate & weather, hydrographic characteristics, geological & geographic information, land cover, biodiversity and forests. It also gives statistics on extraction & trade of minerals, production & use of energy, land use, timber resources & their use, crops, livestock, water resources, emissions of greenhouse gases, occurrence & impact of natural extreme events & disasters, urban & rural population, water & sanitation, other urban habitat concerns and government environmental protection & resource management expenditures.

Industries cover the whole range of industrial activities carried out by businesses in all fields including mining, manufacturing, wholesale and retail trade, and other service industries. In Bhutan, the industrial sector has until recently played a relatively small role in the economy.

The mining industry in Bhutan is as yet relatively undeveloped. The kingdom has significant deposits of a number of mineral resources, including limestone, coal, graphite, gypsum, slate and dolomite. Most mining activities are limited to relatively small operations, mainly involved in the mining of dolomite, gypsum, limestone, slate, coal, marbles, quartzite and talc

The manufacturing industry is dominated by a small number of major operators such as the Penden Cement Authority Ltd., the Bhutan Board Products Ltd., Bhutan Carbide and Chemicals Ltd., the Bhutan Ferro Alloys Ltd. and Bhutan Agro Industries Ltd. Besides these, there are a number of other small manufacturing plants concentrated in the food processing activities. Cottage industry also plays a prominent role with its good timber resources and favorable agricultural conditions.

As the industrial sector grows in Bhutan, statistics on industry will become increasingly important. The Department of Industry keeps a record of all industrial licenses and activities. Besides, Censuses of Manufacturing Industries conducted at regular intervals viz. Industrial Census of 1998 and 2001 have been the source of important information on Industries. For example, information on the number of industries in operation, types of industries, and employment in industries etc. presented in this chapter is the results from those Censuses. Most of the existing industrial establishments are small scale or cottage industries.

Later, Tashi InfoComm Limited, Bhutan's first private mobile company came into existence on October 2006. Now, B-mobile and TashiCell has its services available in all 20 Dzongkhags.

The Postal Service in Bhutan was first launched on 10th October 1962 with the opening of a post office in Phuentsholing. It was called the Department of Posts and Telegraphs under the Ministry of Communications. Initially, the services offered were basic services such as letter mail, postcards and parcels. International mail was only exchanged with India. On 1st October 1996, The Division of Posts and Telegraphs was converted to autonomous Commercial Corporation as Bhutan Post. Bhutan became a member of the Universal Postal Union (UPU) and member of the Asian Pacific Postal Union (APPU) in 1983.

As of 2019, there are in total 91 postal infrastructures in the country. Its portfolio of services also developed and improved over time and an International Express Mail Service (EMS) was introduced in July 1993. Express mail services were introduced into the domestic sector in 1966. Money order services were improved with the introduction of Facsimile Money Order for Bhutan and Express Money Order (EMO) for exchange with India. In 1997, Bhutan Post set up a transport network for the purpose of carrying both passenger and mail. This network presently covers between Thimphu and Phuentsholing and between Phuentsholing and Calcutta.

a. The national highway before year 2011 is now primary national highway, the district road is now secondary national highway and the feeder road is now Dzongkhag road, therefore it is not available for the previous year.

b. The changes in the length of the road esp (PNH/SNH/Access Road) is mainly due to the reclassification of the road done by DoR mainly to fit proper definition.

Electricity is the main energy source of lighting in 99 percent of households in Bhutan as per the Bhutan Living Standard Survey (BLSS) 2017. It is also the most widely used sources of energy for cooking with 94.9 percent households. Electricity generation, though still relatively small in comparison with the rest of the world is growing in importance. In the recent past, electricity generation was based on small diesel generating and micro hydro stations, providing limited supply of electricity, which was supplemented by imports from India. However, that is not case today as Bhutan exports hydro-electricity significantly and generates maximum revenue to the Bhutanese economy.

The economy of the country is largely driven by hydro-power generations and development. Hydropower plants contribute significantly to the overall GDP growth, both during constructions and operation phases. With the commissioning of the first two units of Chhukha Hydro Projects in 1986, and the other two units in 1988 Bhutan substantially increased its electricity generation.

The Chhukha hydro-power with the installed capacity of 336 MW, the Kurichu Hydro power with 60 MW, Basochu hydro power with 64 MW, Tala hydro Power with 1,020 MW and Dagachhu hydro-power with 126 MW generated 1,687.71 MU, 395.46 MU, 306.47 MU, 4,535.71 MU and 399.29 MU respectively in 2019. With the commissioning of Mangdechhu hydro-power project in 2019 with the installed capacity of 720 MW, it has generated 1,532.28 MU. In 2019, the total electricity generation was 8,856.92 MU. Other forms of energy such as diesel generator generated 5,605 KWh in 2019. Figure 9.1 shows the electricity generation by power station, 2019.

Per capita energy consumption (kWh)	2,804.28	2,673.07	3,085.64	3,264.22	3,164.55

Note: Number of towns have been modified by BPC

Details of towns and villages can be found in the power Infrastructure sheet on page 31.

The Revenue from sale of electricity during 2018 increased because of amount of subsidy paid to BPC from MOF which is included in the amount for 2018.

The Revenue from energy sales has gone up partly because of actual energy costs (Nu. 5.81 per unit) vis-à-vis subsidy from MoF

The Revenue from energy sales during 2019 does not include the subsidy from MoF.

The Population figures from 2017 has been re-edited based on the Population and Housing census by NSB.

Therefore, the percapita energy consumption for 2017 and 2018 also increased due to the decrease in population.

The tourism industry in Bhutan began in 1974. The government agency, erstwhile Bhutan Tourism Corporation, controlled tourism until its privatization in 1991. The revenue generation from the tourism sector has increased from over USD 2 million in the late 1980’s to over USD 85.41 million in 2018. The tourism industry in Bhutan enjoyed continued growth rate with the tourist arrivals in the country rising steadily during the 1990s through 2000, while in 2001 there was a comparative decrease in tourist arrivals owing to terrorism and outbreak of SARS. However, the industry saw growing number of international tourist arrival thereafter. In 2008 tourist arrivals had grown significantly than the usual trends owing to the Coronation and the Centenary celebrations where Bhutan had unprecedented media coverage. Also, the Smithsonian festival in 2008 also put Bhutan into the international limelight and must have contributed to the growth in numbers.

Bhutan remains a much admired destination throughout the global tourism industry, particularly in the high-end markets. This is attributed to the pristine state of the country’s cultural and natural heritage, which attracts both an affluent and adventurous clientele, political stability and good governance, which ensures equitable and sustainable national development. In 2015, Bhutan celebrated the 60th birth anniversary of His Majesty the Fourth Druk Gyalpo, the Jewel of Bhutan. To commemorate this special year, Bhutan declared 2015 as “Visit Bhutan Year” to allow visitors from all over the world to join in the celebrations of the Bhutanese for a much loved and revered monarch. There is unequal distribution of tourist arrival in Bhutan in terms of time of their visit. Majority of tourist arrivals are in the month of March, April and May. Paro, Thimphu and Punakha received the largest number of tourist in 2019 also recorded maximum bed nights by Dzongkhag. “Culture and Nature” has always been the Unique Selling Proposition (USP) for the tourism industry of Bhutan.

This chapter presents key indicators/statistics on tourism industry. Most of the statistics is the number of visitor arrivals, considered as an immediate tangible yardstick to measure the performance of the industry. The chapter also captures information on revenue receipts contributed by tourism industry to the economy. Figure 10.1 gives the snapshot of top ten countries from where Bhutan received maximum tourist in 2019.

The importance of foreign trade statistics is instrumental in gauging the overall economic performance in relation with other countries. Foreign trade statistics are vital to the policy makers, planners and the public in general. It is useful for assessing the effectiveness of the various strategies such as export development, promotion and diversification, as well as import rationalization. The data related to merchandise is being compiled by the Department of Revenue and Custom, Ministry of Finance and the services by the Royal Monetary Authority of Bhutan.

Balance of Payments statistics are designed to show the difference between the total payments made to foreign countries and the total receipts from foreign countries. Thus, it provides systematic summary of economic transaction, for a specific time period, between an economy and the rest of the world. The transactions included goods, services, income, transfers and financial claims. Therefore statistics provided in this chapter includes balance of trade, overall balance of payment estimates, top ten export and imports and other related statistics. Figure 11.1 shows the balance of trade from 2015 to 2019.

Balance of payments statistics in Bhutan are compiled by the Royal Monetary Authority based on information from its own accounts and those of the Banks, together with information on imports and exports.

The growth of financial institutions are pivotal in the pursuit of socio-economic development. Towards this, financial statistics play an important role in planning and designing sound policies conducive to economic development and serve as a basis for the monetary authorities and the banking and credit institutions to readily respond to monetary problems, needs and requirements of the economy. Data from financial institutions also provide insights on the contribution of this sector to the government’s task of nation building. The financial sector in Bhutan comprises of Royal Monetary Authority (Bhutan's Central Bank); the Bank of Bhutan, Bhutan National Bank and two private banks: Druk Punjab Bank and Tashi Bank both established in 2010. The non-bank financial institutions are the Royal Insurance Corporation of Bhutan, Bhutan Development Bank Limited, National Pension & Provident Fund and Bhutan Insurance Limited.

The Royal Monetary Authority has developed a comprehensive statistical system for the money, banking and finance sector. The main element of the system is the monetary survey, which is a consolidation of the accounts of the Royal Monetary Authority and other Banks and Financial Institutions showing the financial relationship between these institutions and other sectors of the economy. In addition, financial statements are also available for the three non-bank financial institution.

The statistics presented in this chapter covers the following: the total assets and liabilities of all the financial institutions, credits granted, interest rates on savings and time deposits, financial market information of the Royal Securities Exchange of Bhutan (RSEB) etc. Figure 12.1 illustrates the status of dividend declared by the companies registered under RSEB.

Until the inception of Five Year Plan (FYP) in the country, the economic activities were basically carried out in traditional way. In Particular, the economic transactions were done through barter system and taxes were collected in the form of kind and labor. The citizens were required to remit certain portion of their agricultural, forest and livestock produce to government and it was mandatory for Bhutanese households to provide labor services to accomplish national goals.

With start of FYP development in 1961 and the steady economic integration at regional to global level necessitated institutionalization of contemporary public finance system in the country. For this, the position of Finance Secretary was created under the Royal Secretariat in 1963 which gradually gave birth to the Ministry of Finance in 1968, becoming one of the foremost Ministries in Bhutan. Further, with the introduction of Bhutanese paper currency in 1974, there has been systematic transition from barter system to monetized economy and the ancient taxation system gradually phased out and got replaced by monetary taxation. In order to institutionalize fair and equitable taxation with coherent and rational tax system, taxation policy was initiated in the year 1989. The taxation policy was further revised in 1992, to trim down the tax formation and also to widen tax base in the country.

Today as obligated under Public Finance Act, 2007 that the “Kingdom of Bhutan shall have a sound system of public finance, based on principles of efficiency, economy, effectiveness, equity, sustainability, transparency and accountability” and the Ministry of Finance shall be responsible for reporting of the state of the economy and fiscal position of the government to the parliament demands statistics related to public finance.

Development planning in Bhutan can be tracked back to the year 1961 when the first Five Year Plan (1961/62 to 1965/66) was drawn up. Initially, self-contained development secretariat was established to implement the plan. At the time of preparation of the third plan in 1971, the Planning Commission (now, Gross National Happiness Commission) was established and headed by the His Majesty the King. In the absence of basic economic information and skilled manpower, the formulation of the third plan, like earlier ones was relatively simple. Major developments in regard to the consolidation of the planning process took place in the fourth plan period, when the Dzongkhags were involved in the development process.

The Tenth Five Year Plan (2008-2013) began in July 2007 and emphasized poverty reduction as a primary goal. It was the first plan period implemented after Bhutan transitioned to Democratic Constitutional Monarchy. During this plan period Bhutan committed towards number of global compacts, including MDGs and accordingly achieved most of the targets.

The Eleventh Five Year Plan (2013-2018) was the second five year plan implemented after the introduction of Democratic Constitutional Monarchy in 2008. A notable paradigm shift of the 11th FYP was the adoption of a Result Based Planning (RBP) framework that articulated clear outcomes and outputs that needed to be achieved in order to realize the eleventh plan objectives of “Self-reliance and Inclusive Green Socio-Economic Development”.

The Twelfth Five Year Plan (2018-2023) will be Bhutan’s last five year plan as a Least Developed Countries (LDC) as Bhutan will be graduating from the list of LDC by 2023. With the objective of Just, Harmonious and Sustainable Society through enhanced Decentralization, the 12th FYP and its 17 National Key Result Areas (NKRA) are drawn from the timeless vision and wisdom emanating from the Golden Throne. Unlike the past plan periods, the 12th FYP period commences from 1st November, 2018 and will end on 31st October, 2023 in order to align with the Government’s tenure. Implementation will be rigorously monitored through the government performance management system to ensure that results are achieved. Progress will be reviewed during the annual and mid-term reviews to ensure that corrective measures and mid-course corrections are made in a timely manner.

This chapter presents information on planned budget outlay covering three plan periods described above. The information shall be useful for planners and researchers to analyze and take stock of budgetary outlays provisioned among Bhutan’s institutions including Ministries, constitutional bodies, autonomous bodies and local government. The Figure 14.1 shows the 12th Five Year Plan Outlay for the twenty Dzongkhags.

The System of National Accounts (SNA) is a systematic framework of accounts that measures the level of economic development and the rate of economic growth over time. It gives a macroeconomic depiction of how the economy as a whole functions and its relationship with the rest of the world. This is measured conventionally through Gross Domestic Product (GDP).

GDP represents the end result of all economic activities that take place in the economy. It is the sum total of value of all goods and services produced within the economic boundary of the country, which are available for final uses such as consumption, investment and exports.

GDP is measured both in current and constant prices. The base year for GDP estimation in Bhutan is the year 2000. The current price estimate reflects the monetary value of all goods and services produced in the economy at prices prevailing in the year of reporting, while the constant price estimate reflects the monetary value of all goods and services at the base year prices. The estimation and compilation methodology is as per the United Nations System of National Accounting. GDP in Bhutan is estimated using production and expenditure approach.

The objective of the National Accounts Report is to provide timely, comprehensive and reliable description of the condition and performance of the economy. This is done through measurement of GDP, Gross National Income (GNI), and Final Consumption Expenditure (FCE), Gross Capital Formation (GCF), Saving and Net Exports. These information serve as useful and critical information to politicians, policy makers, planners, academicians, researchers and other users in the overall socio-economic planning and policy formulation, monitoring, analysis, and evaluation of the performance of the economy. Figure 15.1 presents the trend of GDP growth in Bhutan from 2015 to 2019.

Price statistics is an important macro-economic indicator to monitor the overall price movement in the economy. It provides information on inflationary trends in the economy which is essential for formulation of monetary and fiscal policies. It is also used in various other purposes like adjustment of income, deflator in economic series like GDP, business analysis, cost escalation, etc.

Bhutan currently compiles and publishes two price indices namely the Consumer Price Index (CPI) and the Producer Price Index (PPI). CPI is a measure of average price change over time in the prices of goods & services purchased by households whereas PPI is a measure of average price change over time in the prices of goods & services sold by domestic producers. CPI measures price change from a consumer’s perspective while PPI measures price change from a producer’s perspective.

Bhutan started the first compilation of CPI in 1979. CPI was published biannually from 1979 to 2003, and quarterly from third quarter of 2003 till fourth quarter of 2012. However, starting from January 2013 CPI is produced on a monthly basis. The index reference period is April 2019=100 based on which the relative index changes are compared. The current CPI is rebased using the recent BLSS 2017 data and reflects the latest expenditure pattern of the Bhutanese households.

The first PPI was published for 2nd quarter 2011. It is a quarterly publication, and provides monthly indices as well for monitoring price movements on a monthly basis. It includes sectors such as Logging, Mining & Quarrying, Manufacturing, Electricity & Water, Transport and Communication. PPI is compiled by economic activity using the International Standard Industrial Classification (ISIC rev. 4) and by Product group using the Central Product Classification (CPC ver. 2). The weight reference period for PPI is 2010 and the relative index changes are calculated based on September 2011=100 as the index reference period. Figure 16.1 presents the year on inflation rate from 2016 to June 2020.

This chapter presents the details of crime statistics by various categories and nature of crimes reported and registered by Royal Bhutan Police (RBP). The Crime and Criminal Information System (CCIS) maintained by RBP is the main source of data for crime statistics. The police personnel working in various Divisions and Police Stations enter the data in this system as and when the crime is registered in their jurisdiction. The data covers: (a) Type of crime, age and gender of offender; (b) Place of occurrence and time of occurrence; (c) Person killed and injured; (d) Case charge-sheeted; and (e) Conviction report and daily crime report.

Not all crimes that occur are reported to the police or other government agencies. Therefore, there is a gap between the reported crime and the actual incidence of crime occurring on the ground known as dark figure of crime. In order to capture this dark figure as much as possible, the police department is currently in the process of upgrading the existing Crime and Criminal Information System (CCIS) and also plans to conduct separate survey known as victimization survey. Figure 17.1 shows the snapshot of revenue generated through fines imposed on the violation of traffic rules.
